

Critical Success Factors:

Introducing Virtual Group Consultations

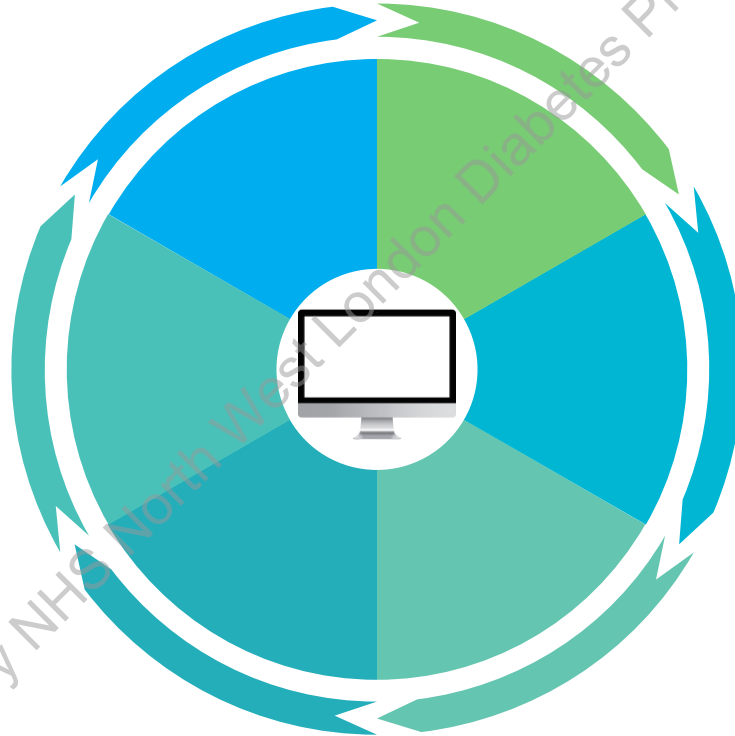

Strong practice leadership; team buy in

Ability to simply communicate why you are delivering care this way; the benefits

Design a Virtual Group Consultations programme that supports current challenges

Have a simple and compelling patient recruitment process and narrative

Training and defined roles on how to facilitate and run Virtual Group Consultations

Be familiar with your platform and have the right equipment